Skip to Main Content Education for Ministry (EFM) is a unique four-year distance learning certificate program in theological education based upon small-group study and practice. Since its founding in 1975, this international program has assisted more than 100,000 participants in discovering and nurturing their call to Christian service. EFM helps the faithful encounter the breadth and depth of the Christian tradition and bring it into conversation with their experiences of the world as they study, worship, and engage in theological reflection together. The program invites participants into small, mentored groups that provide the framework for understanding life and shaping actions as Christian faith is deepened. EFM seminar groups meet in local settings and online, and provide a four-year curriculum that develops a theologically informed, reflective, and articulate laity. NEW! Supacolor Custom Transfers. This printable Wedding Activity Book is the perfect resource to keep kids entertained on your big day! Use it at the wedding or the reception and your guests will be so excited that you thought of their little ones. Here's an idea for all of you brides and grooms to be! Before Ryan and I got married, we realized our ceremony and reception were going to be chock full of kiddos, and we didn't have anything fun for them to do. So I sat right down and started drawing, and ended up with a little wedding activity book that ended up being a HUGE hit. To this day, it's our most downloaded item and our most popular blog post. (And we don't even blog about wedding stuff any more!) But this printable wedding activity book for kids has helped so many brides and grooms, and I hope it helps you too. Keep reading or just click below for the activity book. Before you dive in, check out the rest of the details from our DIY wedding! Tons of inspiration and resources are waiting for you there. DOWNLOAD THE ACTIVITY BOOK Kids Activity Tables at a Wedding Reception It's no secret that weddings and receptions can be spectacularly boring for kids. And as the adults, we want to be able to relax, enjoy the festivities, and not be constantly concerned that our little ones are going to scream during the "I do's" or knock over the wedding cake. So the best plan of action? Keep them entertained. My favorite weddings to attend, now that I'm a parent, are the ones who consider the kiddos that are invited. And that's exactly what this printable wedding activity book for kids will do! You can print and prepare these in less than an hour, and it takes minimal materials to put together a fun little pack of crayons or pencils for children to be able to color and do the activities in the book all evening long. If you like our wedding book idea, be sure to join our free, exclusive list so that I can send more ideas and inspiration right to ya! Enter your info below to join. How to Make a Printable Wedding Activity Book for Kids Before you follow our simple tutorial to create this printable wedding activity book for kids, please note the following! UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES SHOULD ANY PORTION OF THIS BOOK BE DOWNLOADED AND REDISTRIBUTED. The content of the book is copyrighted intellectual property and offered solely here for personal use exclusively. Materials Tips for printing the Book Download our printable wedding activity book for kids.To print, we recommend a test print first. The book prints best at about 90%, so once your print dialogue comes up to print, choose Print options, then under Scale, select 90% or "Fit to Page."Note: the pages are not out of order. If you are printing at home, print out the page with the car on it first, then on the back of that same sheet, print the front cover of the booklet (ensuring that it doesn't end up upside-down). Next, print out the page with the cake on it, and on the back of that same sheet, print out the tic-tac-toe page. Make as many double-sided copies of this as you need for all of the children who are attending your wedding or reception. How to Put Together the WEDDING Activity Books Lay the sheets on top of each other in order, so that the cover of the booklet is on the bottom. Ensure that the edges are all aligned completely. Fold the sheets in half to create your book, making a crease down the center. Use the tip of your scissors (or a hole punch) to poke two holes through the pages right on the crease, about 3 inches apart.Cut a length of baker's twine, string it through the two holes from the inside of the book toward the outside cover, and tie in a knot or bow on the outside. If you like, you can add embellishments like tassels, pompoms, or anything you like. It's fun to have the color of the twine correspond with your wedding colors!All you have left to do is arrange for some crayons or colored pencils! You could bundle up small packs of crayons using the same color of baker's twine, or just leave a big container of crayons or pencils in the center of a kids' table for them to choose from. That's it! Make one wedding activity book for each of the kiddos that are attending your wedding and they'll love it. Los Angeles Times subscribers have full access to articles on the Los Angeles Times website. This includes most articles published since 1985, as well as a smaller number of older articles. Search the site directly or through search engines. You can also browse by year and month on our historical sitemap.Readers can search printed pages and article clips going back to 1881 in a database hosted by newspapers.com. Are the archives free to all? No. Articles on the website are included in a Los Angeles Times subscription. Viewing the printed pages and clips at newspapers.com requires a fee. How does newspapers.com work? Any reader can search newspapers.com by registering. There is a fee for seeing pages and other features. Papers from more than 30 days ago are available, all the way back to 1881. What if I want to see a recent printed newspaper? Do the website and print formats provide the same information? No. The text of news articles will match in both formats, but other content can be different. For example, the digital website format does not include many print features, including weather pages, sports tables, stock prices and advertising, including paid obituaries. Articles on the website that were published between 1985 and 2000 often do not include photos, maps or other content that appeared alongside them in print. After 2000, this content began to appear more often in digital versions and increasing numbers of articles, extra photos and other content were published only online. Also, the Times website does not have rights to certain freelance articles, book excerpts and opinion essays, most of these published during the 1980s and 1990s. These will only be found in the print versions at newspapers.com. What's the best way to search? You may want to try external search engines (include "latimes.com" in your search) as well as the Times site search. Search first by a phrase, keywords, dates, a snippet of text or author. Standard search techniques can help, such as putting an exact phrase in quotes. If you have the print headline and want to find the article on the website, it's best to search for a key part of the headline because the headlines may be different. What if I see more than one headline in a search? It is normal to see multiple news articles on one subject, since events unfold over time. Also, regional editions of the newspaper sometimes printed different versions of an article. In the early years of the internet it was common to publish an article on the website during the day, then separately publish an updated version the next morning on the website and in print. Searchers online may also find additional coverage in the form of digital photo galleries, blog posts, newsletters and other formats. Are there other ways to find Los Angeles Times articles and photos? Yes. Vendors such as Lexis-Nexis and Dow Jones/Factiva license archive content to display in their databases. Syndicated versions of Times articles sometimes appear on other websites. Where do I get research help? How can I buy an old newspaper, reprint an article or show a Times newspaper in a movie scene? Comments? Send a note to our reader's representative. Use the general comments field and begin with "Archives:"
